non-measured pour spouts

collared & fliptop seal

The Precision Pour® non-measured, collared & fliptop style pour spouts feature the same high quality materials and superior quality of build as the 3-Ball measured-style spouts. The only difference being that the non-measured spouts are free-flowing; they will not automatically stop pouring like the 3-Ball spouts.

The collared & fliptop seal spouts are our “fully-loaded” style of spout. These spouts offer the cosmetic benefits of the collar and also the fliptop seal’s protection against contaminants and fruit flies.

Cosmetically, the collar covers the glass threads on liquor bottles as well as any exposed fins on the spout stem. Practically, the collar makes it easier to remove the spout from empty bottles in comparison to other manufacturer's spouts.

The fliptop seal prevents fruit flies and contaminants from entering your liquor bottles and because it is an integral part of the spout, not an add-on like other manufacturer's spouts, the Precision Pour® fliptop seal is the most durable and smoothest operating spout top available.
